What's New in the CareUEyes Pro?

Do you want to avoid blurry vision while reading online articles and watching movies? Reduce the strain on your eyes caused by prolonged use of a computer screen? Do you want to make sure you get a good night's sleep? This application has what you need to help you do all three. The application is suitable for novice computer users as well as advanced users, and it can be used in two different modes. * Smart Mode: The color temperature is automatically adjusted to minimize the amount of blue light generated by the screen. * Classic Mode: There are five color temperature presets available, but you can use your own custom settings if you wish. There are two main tasks you can perform using the application. * Get alerts to prevent you from working too long at a time * Require your eyes to rest every now and again The application can also tell you what time it is, and it can display a desktop notification when you have an upcoming break. The notification can be cleared as soon as you finish working. The application can also lock your screen until a specified amount of time is up, preventing you from working while the break is still in progress. For those who want to know exactly how much time is left before they can go to sleep, the application can display a timer that lets you keep track of the time. Your screen can be turned off at the end of a specified work period, and the screen can also be turned off at the end of a rest period. The application can also adjust the brightness of the screen, but it does not seem to be possible to customize the brightness levels. If you want to ensure that you don't keep skipping breaks when you have a lot of work to do, you can enable the "Force rest" feature, which prevents you from using your PC until the break is over. There are several colors available in the notification and timer, and it can be customized in terms of background color. If you are not bothered about waking up to find yourself staring at a bright screen, the application can be used in Classic Mode. This mode enables you to set custom color temperatures and brightness levels for the duration of the break. Read more: Visit the official website of the developer.
